Star Tribune names UCare a 2020 Top 150 Workplace

UCare wins top workplace honors all 11 years of the program

MINNEAPOLIS, June 25, 2020 — UCare, an independent, nonprofit health plan, has been named one of the Top 150 Workplaces in Minnesota by the Star Tribune. A complete list of those selected is available at <https://www.startribune.com/ranking-minnesota-s-150-top-workplaces/571445601/> and will be published in the Star Tribune Top Workplaces special section on Sunday, June 28.

Produced by the same team that compiles the 29-year-old Star Tribune 100 report of the best-performing public companies in Minnesota, Top Workplaces recognizes the most progressive companies in Minnesota based on employee opinions measuring engagement, organizational health and satisfaction. The analysis included responses from over 76,000 employees at Minnesota public, private and nonprofit organizations.

The rankings in the Star Tribune Top 150 Workplaces are based on survey information collected by Energage, an independent company specializing in employee engagement and retention.

UCare is ranked 23 on the large company list – one of only a small number of companies to be named a Top 150 Workplace all 11 years of the program. UCare Chief Administrative Officer, Hilary Marden Resnik, is quoted in an article about UCare’s continuous training, communication and engagement supporting a successful transition to work from home. In 2014 and 2016, UCare also received a special award for Communications from the Star Tribune.

“We are thankful to the more than 95% of UCare employees who responded to the Top Workplaces survey this year, affirming our strong workplace culture – which continues as we work from home in a pandemic,” said Mark Traynor, UCare’s President and CEO. “UCare’s people power is special. It’s what drives us to do the very best in supporting our members’ health.”

Star Tribune Publisher Michael J. Klingensmith said, “The companies in the Star Tribune Top 150 Workplaces deserve high praise for creating the very best work environments in the state of Minnesota. My congratulations to each of these exceptional companies.”
